RN: Vienna has been very fortunate with the management. Maud, for example -

DS: Maud Robinson.

RN: Maud Robinson. Her husband.

DS: Charlie, Robinson. The mayor. Charlie Robinson.

RN: Charlie Robinson was mayor for a long time. And every Fourth of July, they had parties, and among the things they had was a baseball throw. And Charlie sat on a swing above a great big puddle of - tub of water. And you could throw a baseball - he was protected, but there was a target above him. If you hit the target, he'd dunk in the water. And he did that for years.
